

Join the association that is making a difference!

Strengthen your influence and strengthen your business

The Animal Nutrition Association of Canada (ANAC) is the national trade association of the livestock, poultry and aquaculture feed industries. ANAC acts as the voice of the feed industry in dealings with government policy makers and regulators as well as agri-food stakeholders. Our efforts are aimed at fostering a favourable regulatory and business environment for the industry, while supporting initiatives to maintain the highest standards of feed and food safety. We strive to foster relationships with the feed value chain to ensure that we are providing input at the forefront of trends and issues that could impact the feed industry.

ANAC: The voice of the Canadian feed industry Contact us at info@anacan.org

ANAC is committed to facilitating the continued growth of our industry through:

Representation of our members with government and other agri-food stakeholders domestically and internationally

Collaboration with government, the feed value chain, commodity groups, producer groups, as well as other provincial and national associations, to develop and support industry or government programs and standards

Knowledge and sharing of expertise through individualized technical support, training, guidance and best practice documents

Networking activities that provide opportunities to exchange with feed industry representatives across the country

Value services and programs offered

Membership in ANAC provides you with access to a range of services and programs, including:

Input and insight into key regulatory and policy issues affecting the industry

ANAC has developed a strong working relationship with policy makers and regulators and assists members to interpret, clarify, and comply with government requirements.

Access to technical support and services

ANAC staff are available to confidentially answer individual questions in support of regulatory and inspection issues or industry programs.

Industry resources, tools and guidance

ANAC helps you adapt to industry change – be it regulatory, food safety, or customer requirements. Helping our members navigate the feed regulatory modernization process is a top priority.

Linkages with the international feed industry

Through active participation in the International Feed Industry Federation, ANAC liaises with the global feed community to prepare members for emerging trends and issues to ensure the long-term viability of the industry and minimize trade impacts.

FeedAssure® certification program

Our flagship program, developed in 1999, is a comprehensive feed safety management and certification system bringing the highest standard for feed safety in Canada. ANAC members benefit from preferred rates for FeedAssure® training as well as a significant discount on the annual administration fee for certified facilities.

Additional benefits

1. Access to our Directory of Members
2. A subscription to the industry's bi-monthly electronic newsletter that provides the latest progress on industry developments and issues
3. Regular membership briefings to keep you informed of emerging issues
4. Access to ANAC members only section website
5. Access to webinars and training, at no cost or at member rates
6. Special member rates for ANAC's annual convention and the Animal Nutrition Conference of Canada
7. Opportunity to participate in ANAC focus committees
8. A free job posting service that gets your position in front of qualified people quickly

