

Blue Rock Animal Nutrition

"Your Success is Our Success"

SEEKING ASSOCIATE RUMINANT NUTRITIONIST

Blue Rock Animal Nutrition is a ruminant nutrition consulting business serving cattle producers across Alberta, British Columbia, and Saskatchewan. We are expanding our team and seeking an exceptional individual to grow with us. This position is to cover a maternity leave, with the potential to transition into a permanent role.

Our Vision:

To be the preferred nutrition consulting service for cow-calf producers in Western Canada. We build strong relationships with individual operations and develop effective, sustainable nutrition programs tailored to each ranch.

Our Mission:

Our passion is the cattle industry. We work with innovative producers to fine-tune their operations, making them more productive, sustainable, and profitable. Our experienced nutritionists help build robust, practical nutrition programs and support producers as they adapt to changing weather, feed availability, and market conditions.

Associate Ruminant Nutritionist – Role:

This position is based out of our Innisfail office and premix manufacturing facility in Central Alberta. The successful candidate will divide their time between office-based support for walk-in clients and on-farm visits throughout Alberta.

Most of the role involves working directly with producers as a value-added technical resource.

- Responsibilities include:
 - Partnering with new and existing clients to develop whole-farm nutrition programs
 - Feed testing and interpretation
 - Ration formulation, optimization, and troubleshooting
 - Assisting with custom premix formulation and collaborating daily with the manufacturing team
 - Participating in industry events and ongoing professional development
 - Contributing to a collaborative, supportive ruminant nutrition team

- Requirements:
 - Exceptional people skills
 - Bachelor's degree in Animal Science/Nutrition (minimum)
 - Strong understanding of the beef industry
 - Collaborative communication skills
 - Willingness to travel to farms throughout Alberta

-
- Ability to work independently and prioritize workload
 - Motivation to learn and seek out information
 - Accountability and professionalism
 - Strong interpersonal and organizational skills
 - Commitment to maintaining client confidentiality
 - Strong written and verbal communication skills
 - Proficiency with Microsoft Office (Excel, Word, PowerPoint)
 - Experience with ration balancing programs
 - Valid Canadian driver's license
 - High level of self-confidence, positive attitude, maturity, and integrity

What We Offer:

This role provides the opportunity to be a trusted resource to some of the most progressive cattle producers in Western Canada. You will help advance producer success by providing technical expertise that improves efficiency and profitability.

You will work independently while being fully supported by our skilled nutrition and management team. As a local, small business, Blue Rock offers flexibility, professional growth, and the chance to be part of an exceptional team.

➤ We offer:

- Competitive compensation
- Benefits package
- Phone allowance
- Company truck
- Flexibility
- Opportunities for professional development and long-term growth

Grow with us in our success!

When applying please provide:

- ✓ An up-to-date resume
- ✓ References
- ✓ A cover letter outlining your career goals and relevant experience

Email applications to:

Kristen Ritson-Bennett

Managing Partner – Nutritionist

(403) 358-1674

bluerock.kristen@gmail.com