

WHY MODERNIZE THE FEEDS REGULATIONS?

The modernized regulations bring more clarity, flexibility and transparency for stakeholders throughout the feed industry.

The history

Industry and government stakeholders have been working collaboratively on modernizing the Feeds Regulations since 2011. Representing the most significant legislative change for the sector in 40 years, the feed industry is excited to work with regulations that are reflective of today's business environment as well as farmers' needs.

Changes to the products requiring authorization allowing for more efficient access to new feeds and feed ingredients

Incorporation by reference of nine documents (tables, lists, compendiums), assuring they can be updated in a timely manner as new scientific evidence becomes available

Removal of set nutrient minimum requirements in complete feeds to allow industry to formulate feeds ensuring animal, human and environmental safety

The modernized Feeds Regulations also bring new requirements for feed facilities to enhance their feed safety protocols by including elements such as hazard analysis, preventive control plans and traceability.
